Imitation- Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie 2015-05-13 A Vintage Shorts “Short Story Month” selection by Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie The bestselling author of Americanah and We Should All Be Feminists: Fifteen-year-old Kamali and her brother Jalaru lead a privileged life in Enugu, Nigeria. They live in a beautiful house, with a caring family, and attend an exclusive missionary school. They’re completely unaware that their country is on the verge of war, and the changes that seem to be true lies of this beautiful young woman and her family. Adichie brilliantly evokes the promise, and intimately, the devastating secession and the subsequent war, Adichie brilliantly evokes the promise, and intimately, the devastating...
